Adam: And hello, I'm Adam.

Raphael: Welcome to our learning Chinese course .

Luise: In today's lesson , we are going to continue listening to a story . So up to now, what is the basic content of this story ?

Raphael: From the earlier lessons till now , we have listened to two stories . One is about a woman named Xiaoli , she lives in China , her dream is to become a successful writer . The other story is about a man named Mike . He originally lived in America , and then later moved to China , and then started teaching English locally .

Luise: That's right . Now in today's story , we are also going to hear some new words .

Raphael: School principal .

Adam: School principal.

Raphael: To request .

Adam: To request.

Luise: Let's first listen to today's story at a normal speed .

Raphael: Xiaoli was very excited , because her school had recently hired an American teacher . Until now, Xiaoli's understanding of western culture had all come from studying novels and movies . Yet she wasn't overly looking forward to chatting to the American teacher , since she had no experience talking to westerners before . Later the school principal asked the teachers , if there was anyone willing to help Mr Mike during his class . In the end, only Xiaoli was willing to help . Later, the principal also asked Xiaoli after Mike finished his classes to help him where needed , hoping Mr Mike would quickly adapt to life in China . After listening to the principal's request, Xiaoli felt that this was an opportunity to better understand western culture . Mike was also looking forward to his life in a small town in China , since he wanted to experience for himself the life that regular Chinese people lived .

Luise: Let's listen again to this story at a slowed down speed .
