Kirin: According to most university students , working part time during summer vacation is a normal thing to do . There are many advantages to working part time , not only does it let them learn how to make money , more importantly, it gives them some experience , which cannot be learned in school . However working part time during summer has some parts that you have to pay attention to and be careful about . It is best to not directly believe what you see in the newspaper or website ad, and then apply for the job . Some ads that request part time work look like they are easy to do and interesting , but there are many that lie to people . So the best way for students to look for summer part time work is to go to the school office or bulletin board to look for information . A good summer part time job experience can not only help a student increase their personal interests , it is also a good opportunity to learn to be more independent .
