Kirin: America is in the middle of North America , its area is more than nine million six hundred thousand square kilometers . To its north is Canada , to its south is Mexico .

The capital of America is Washington DC , however its largest city is New York .

America's history stretches more than 200 years , July 4th, 1776 is the day America became independent . Today, America is composed of 50 states , with a population of more than 300 million , it is the third most populated country in the world . In the past, most Americans immigrated from Europe , later there were also many who came from different countries who emigrated there for work or education , so America is also a country with many ethnicities . Due to the development of industrialization, science and economic freedom , America has a big influence on the economies of other countries .

But many people recognize American styles from television or movies . While watching movies on television or sports games , you can get to know American culture . Those who want to travel to America , can go to the Rocky mountains in the west visit the famous Yellowstone national park and Grand Canyon , and appreciate the natural scenery there . Or they can go to different cities to experience more of ethnic and new cultures .
