Lesson 376 Notes :

1. As has been mentioned before, these articles on countries are good ways to practice your knowledge of large numbers. Listen to the description of areas and populations and see if you can figure out the equivalent number, before looking at the translation.
2. As you listen to these country articles, also compare the details with that of your own country. The idea is to give you enough examples and ideas to come up with a description of your own country to give to others.
